PRESERVING THE PAST, BUILDING THE FUTURE

CHAMBER HISTORY

With the express purpose of fostering progress and the betterment of the city of Shreveport, 500 businessmen of the community gathered the night of March 24, 1910, in the Caddo Parish Courthouse with the foresight to form an organization that would last for generations to come.

The meeting drew businessmen from many industries with the purpose of consolidating other commercial and public organizations throughout the city into one, more powerful entity that would be representative of the group as a whole. The group jumped into action immediately, forming the Shreveport Chamber of Commerce, raising $10,000 on the spot to start the organization.

That night, a supporter proclaimed: "The Chamber of Commerce will be the embodiment of the best thought and efforts of our people for growth and progress. Its purpose will be as broad as the commercial and financial needs of the city and its watchword 'Greater Shreveport.'"

GREATER SHREVEPORT CHAMBER

DEAR INVESTORS,

First, I would like to say that I am very proud and humbled to have been selected to be your next Board Chairman of The Greater Shreveport Chamber of Commerce. For me, the Chamber of Commerce has always been regarded as one of the top business organizations in our community consisting of business men and women who represent many of the successful industries in our area. I have often heard members refer to the Chamber of Commerce as such a prestigious organization yet extremely effective with representing our business community in our local and state governments. Now as Board Chairman, words cannot express how proud I am to serve in this capacity on behalf of the Board of Directors and all of the investors. I cannot forget to mention the outstanding leadership that has come before me. Past Chairman Michael Corbin did a fantastic job last year as he carried on the legacy of the many great leaders before him. His support and work with President, Dr. Tim Wagner helped build our relevance within our community and the continued growth in our investors. So, thank you Michael for leaving the Chamber in great condition!

The Chamber has so much legacy and tradition to carry forward. It has been the pillar of the Shreveport business community since its inception back in 1910. As a business owner myself, I have always trusted the Chamber to fight in Baton Rouge and Washington D.C. for the things that matter to our local businesses. The Chamber will continue to advocate for good public policy, solid education, better tax policies for our businesses and promote harmony and positive dialog with our local elected officials.

Having been involved with the Chamber of Commerce for almost thirty years now, I have learned how incredibly important our Chamber is to the community. Whether it is related to economic development, military affairs, public policy, healthcare, or education, the Chamber finds ways to impact our community for the good through our advocacy and involvement. The incredible Chamber staff works every day to make our Chamber useful to its investors and support our local businesses. I am amazed at the work they do behind the scenes to make our local Chamber of Commerce so successful. They are truly the unsung heroes of our business community.

Your 2025 Board consists of manufacturers, contractors, attorneys, healthcare and aviation executives, bankers, accountants, architects and engineers, marketing communications and advertising executives, and entrepreneurs. It is a very strong and diverse group of business leaders prepared to serve and represent our business community. Your new Board is ready to go to work. We met together during our Board Retreat in January and are energized for the new 2025 year. This will help us better connect with all of our businesses and their needs this year. Some of the important key initiatives that are our priority for 2025 are as follows:

- » Raising funds to renovate the Chamber Building for hosting business owners, government officials, education leaders, special events, and providing a safe, comfortable workspace for staff.
- » Continuing our dialog about infrastructure needs in the City of Shreveport and how to fund necessary improvements.
- » Supporting early childhood education and workforce development.
- » Supporting Barksdale Air Force Base and the critical mission the base plays in our national security.
- » Supporting economic development in Northwest Louisiana.
- » Supporting membership by advocating for local, state and federal legislation supportive of business, and working with the City of Shreveport and Caddo Parish to streamline new business processes.

Over the years, as I have served on the board, as treasurer, as vice-chair and now as your Chairman, the question is often asked, "What all does the Chamber do? Is it important that I am a member?" That question can be difficult to answer in just a few words. The Chamber has an incredible role in our business community, including:

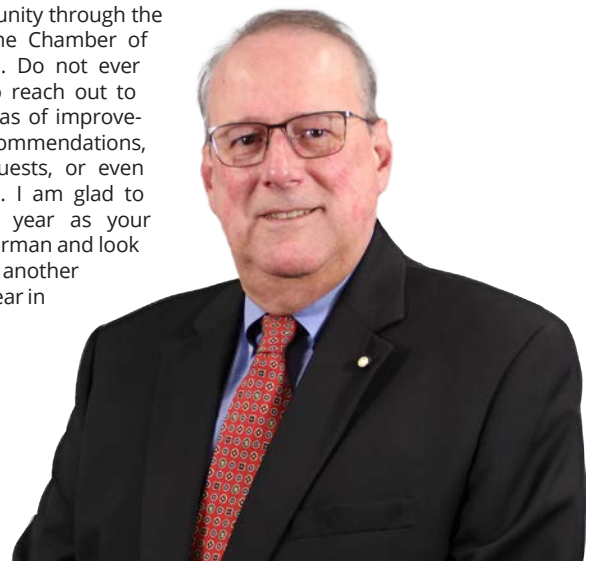

- » Legislative advocacy and monitoring of legislation on federal, state, and local levels that impacts our local business community.
- » Supporting Barksdale Air Force Base and the people serving our country.
- » Working with our City leaders on public policy that promotes a vibrant city and business environment.
- » Partnering with state and local economic development authorities as well as other organizations to improve our local economy and bring in new business.
- » Working with state, local and private educational institutions to promote a diverse and educated workforce.
- » There are many more to mention, but one that really sticks out to me is this - The Chamber provides the place, the environment, the leadership for our community to convene to discuss issues with an open and unjudging attitude so we can solve problems, address issues, and improve our entire community.

I want to encourage you to please make an extra effort to attend our Chamber events this year. There are so many different opportunities to get involved with at the Chamber and meet new people. Whether it is an after hours function, a luncheon or a sponsored event at the Chamber – get involved! You will be amazed at how many events and activities there are with the Greater Shreveport Chamber of Commerce. When meetings and events are well attended, they are no doubt more productive! A great way to be informed with what's going on with the Chamber is the weekly newsletter. I have found them to be incredibly helpful knowing when events are and providing information about new and existing investors. The Greater Shreveport Chamber supports and mentors numerous groups of future leaders: Greater Shreveport Leadership, Young Professionals Initiative, and Chamber Diplomats.

In 2025, I would like to challenge each of you with the following:

- » Before clicking the "Pay Now" button while shopping online, visit a local store or business and find something local
- » Encourage at least one business you frequent to join your Chamber
- » Become involved, whether it be Chamber, church or other organization, or community, the rewards you will receive when involved far exceed the efforts you put in.

This year, we have an opportunity to really make a difference in our community through the work of the Chamber of Commerce. Do not ever hesitate to reach out to me for ideas of improvement, recommendations, your requests, or even complaints. I am glad to serve this year as your Board Chairman and look forward to another fantastic year in 2025!

FROM THE MAYOR

THE ECONOMIC FUTURE LOOKS BRIGHT FOR SHREVEPORT

“Optimism is a hopeful, positive outlook toward the future, a belief that good things will happen, and challenges can be overcome. It's an emotional approach that fills us with a sense of possibility, which often leads to feelings of joy, resilience, and confidence. Optimism does not mean ignoring difficulties; rather, it reflects a choice to focus on potential solutions, growth, and silver linings even in adverse solutions. Having an optimistic outlook, I think, is significant because it influences both mindset and behavior. Although I am very methodical in my approaches to work and business and, by nature, a planner, I am an optimistic person. Being optimistic helps me to bounce back from setbacks with renewed energy. Without hesitation, I say that the future of Shreveport looks good economically.

When I think of a good economy, I think of affording people the opportunity to work. Economic well-being occurs when people have the means to meet their basic needs and have sustainable income and assets. A good economy is one where people can live and work with dignity, and where the economy serves the common good. In thinking of the city's economic climate and accomplishments, I feel proud and optimistic.

We are excited about our citizens' overwhelming approval of $256.1 million in General Obligation Bonds last April. This is the first major bond issue approved for our city since 2011. We are preparing to sell the first $88 million of these bonds, and then should begin work on the first projects in early 2025. It is going to be thrilling to see our city transformed. The theme of bond issue was Renew Shreveport, and that is what we are doing. Hundreds of jobs will become available; our city's infrastructure will be stronger; and our communities will become more attractive, safer, and places of great pride for citizens.

The LSU Health Sciences Foundation will open a Cancer and Cardiovascular Research Center in the old Sears building in Mall St. Vincent. The three-story, 160,000 square-foot building with 18 acres and 800 parking spaces has created new energy and interest in what is happening in Shreveport. Dr. A. Wayne Orr, Director of the Center for Cardiovascular Disease, and one of the new building's tenants, said growth like this creates excitement among researchers nationwide, stating that the city has good infrastructure and that when scientists from around the country come here, they are surprised at what Shreveport has to offer. "What we would like to do is just continue that growth and we're running out of space in the main medical school area to do that. This gives us room to grow, room to move, room to bring in larger teams of scientists from around the country," Dr. Orr said. Kevin Flood, the foundation's president and CEO, says that the foundation will own and renovate the building and lease it back to LSU Health Shreveport.

And speaking of creating new energy, Curtis "50 Cent" Jackson's arrival has created a stir. The lease of Millennium Studios by G-Unit has been completed, and Jackson's recent Humor and Harmony Weekend of fun showcased what can happen with vision. We anticipate the creation of jobs in the film industry, and numerous small businesses that arise from the industry.

The Amazon Fulfillment Center has hired more than the 1,000 people it originally projected. Employees work side-by-side with robots to pick, pack, and ship customer orders such as books, toys, and housewares. Most hourly workers in customer fulfillment earn between $17 and $28 per hour. Amazon's arrival is a testament to the city business climate and the advantages of our geographical location in North Louisiana.

Parish Commissioner Stormy Gage-Watts reminded us all that in business, there's no finish line, only mile markers, and each one of those counts toward the goal. She acknowledged that she was thrilled to be a part of the footprint and excited to welcome new business opportunities to District 7 and Caddo Parish.

The newest facility for Amazon will be at the Shreve Park Industrial Campus, off Highway 3132 near West 70th Street. Called the "last mile facility," this new addition will be part of Amazon's continued investment in our growing economy. This complex will be about 87,000 square feet and will play a crucial role in Amazon's delivery network. The "last-mile facility" is where customer orders are prepared for delivery, ensuring faster and more efficient delivery service to customers in and around Shreveport. This facility, coupled with the Amazon Fulfillment Center in north Shreveport, will significantly impact the local job market.

Lending support to these businesses and bringing more opportunities to our city will be the new Director of Economic Development, Mr. William "Bill" Sabo. Sabo comes aboard November 1, 2024. He brings a wealth of experience in economic development, business growth, and strategic planning, making him an invaluable asset to the city as it continues to focus on growth and prosperity. As Director, he will lead efforts to grow new businesses, retain existing ones, and create job opportunities for our residents, especially in historically underserved communities. Sabo earned a bachelor's degree from Tulane University and has done post-graduate work at both Stanford and MIT. He is a Certified Professional Project Manager, a Certified Entrepreneurial Development Professional, and Certified Economic Developer.

The Mayor's Small Business Task Force recently issued its report and recommendations for doing business, especially starting a small business, in Shreveport. Among others, one of the focuses of the Task Force was to reform the regulatory environment and ensure all individuals with determination and passion can have a genuine shot at becoming small business owners. The report provides regulatory analyses, entrepreneur insights, and reform recommendations. Greater Shreveport Chamber President Dr. Tim Magner chaired the task force, which was assisted, free of charge to the City of Shreveport, by the Institute for Justice. Director of Economic Development Bill Sabo will head up the implementation team for the recommendations.

The economic future looks bright for our city. We just need to have more opportunities—coupled with a bit of optimism—and the willingness to step forward and do good work.

MAYOR

SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA

Since its founding in 1835, Shreveport has been a focal point for economic development and a vibrant crossroads for people and ideas. Founded by the Shreve Town Company at the point in the Red River where Captain Henry Miller Shreve cleared the logjam called the 'Great Raft', Shreveport has evolved as the cultural and commercial center of an area which encompasses Northwest Louisiana but extends to include Southwest Arkansas and Northeast Texas, an area we affectionately call the Ark-La-Tex.

Just as Shreveport sits today at the confluence of east-west Interstate Highway 20 and north-south Interstate Highway 49, Shreveport has been a cultural crossroads for generations. The result is a festive mix of Cajun and Creole spices from south Louisiana with cowboy boots and oil rigs from nearby east Texas. Folks around here root for the NFL New Orleans Saints and Dallas Cowboys as well as college teams from Louisiana Tech, Grambling, LSU, Arkansas and Texas A&M. Shreveport hosts the Louisiana State Fair as well as the annual crawfish eating marvel that is the Mudbug Madness Festival. We host the Red River Revel Arts and Music Festival and at least five different Mardi Gras parades complete with floats and beads galore. We have gumbo cooking contests, barbeque cook-offs, and both a wine and a craft beer festival. Not to mention at least three local craft breweries and a restaurant scene that includes Indian, Italian, Middle Eastern and Asian and range from steakhouses, to taco trucks and everything in between.

Shreveport is also the commercial center of the Ark-La-Tex with two airports, rail, port and road infrastructure. Ranked as one of the most cost competitive places to do business and among the top ten communities for economic potential, the Greater Shreveport area offers competitive advantages that make us a world class location for high quality talent, innovative companies, and global investment.

THE CENTER OF CULTURE, COMMERCE, AND COMMUNITY IN NORTHWEST LOUISIANA

The Greater Shreveport area also supports a diverse and balanced economy which was named among the top "25 Cities on the Rise" in Louisiana by NerdWallet.com and No. 18 among "Best Opportunity Cities" by Forbes magazine. Southern Business and Development called Shreveport a "Game Changing Community."

The Greater Shreveport-Bossier area also offers a wide range of communities to suit any lifestyle choice. Whether it's a funky downtown loft that is walking distance to bistros and the theater, a suburban-style bedroom community, country club and golf course living, historic neighborhoods with stately homes, or a rural retreat, Shreveport has it all. And with access to some of the best schools in the state, Shreveport has a neighborhood community that is right for you. So, whether you are looking for something familiar, or something a little different, chances are you'll find it here in Shreveport.

Shreveport has been welcoming newcomers and businesses since being founded by the Shreve Town Company in 1835.

From beautiful lakes to gripping sites along the Red River, there is much to see and do in Greater Shreveport. Recently named one of the happiest cities in the nation, it's no wonder so many choose this vibrant metropolis as their home. The compassion for family, appreciation for the arts and dedication to business derive from the strong roots on which the city originated from.

Shreveport is also known for its sister city, Bossier City with only the river separating them. Together they have six historic districts as well as many landmarks which are listed on the National Register. Among all Louisiana cities with multiple historic landmarks, Shreveport ranks second only to New Orleans.

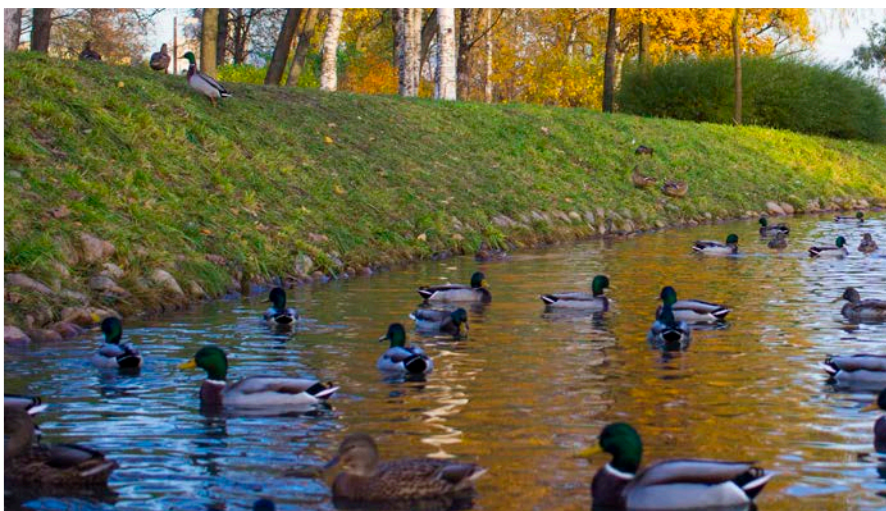

Shreveport continues to make amazing strides toward growth and residents can expect further development of the downtown area that will continue to bring additional opportunities for both business and leisure. The city certainly originates from a rich culture and history, which makes it a wonderful place to visit and an even better place to call home.

Newcomers to the area might not be able to imagine it, but the Red River was once engulfed by large amounts of driftwood and was completely un-navigable. Thousands of years of flooding had caused debris and dislodged trees to create a log-jam which resulted in an amalgamation that was wedged so tightly that a person could actually walk across it. The approximately 180-mile-long area was named the Great Raft. Commanding the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Captain Henry Miller Shreve took a "snagboat" design he'd been working on and built a vessel called the Heliopolis, which was equipped with a steam-powered windlass that was used to pull large masses of wood and debris from the water. Secretary of War, Lewis Cass, ordered Captain Shreve to clear the Great Raft with the Heliopolis. The Shreve Town Company and the village of Shreve Town were named in Captain Henry Miller Shreve's honor. It was on March 20, 1839, that the town was incorporated as "Shreveport."

In 1871, Shreveport was incorporated as a city and its original boundaries were contained within a 64-block district located just west of the Red River. The economy and growth of Shreveport was based on steamboat commerce and centered on the river throughout the 1800s. The early key industries included lumber and manufacturing, and also included cotton and other agricultural crops. In time, as businesses began relying on the railroads as a means of shipping products and goods, the river once again became impassible due to a waning of steamboat traffic and debris accumulation. In 1994, the river underwent restoration that renewed the Shreveport-Bossier area as a thriving port and shipping center. Once the river opened to steamboats again, riverboat gambling returned to the port and to this day draws in large degrees of revenue from tourism.

COMMUNITY & RELOCATION

Nestled between the banks of the Red River and the Texas state line, there is a city teeming with potential, artistic flair, and southern hospitality that is so sweet, it will make your lips pucker. That city is Shreveport.

If you have lived in and around the Shreveport area your entire life, you will have been privileged enough to see Shreveport's potential growth. Our city has pretty much anything anyone could ever need. We have a low cost of living, with plenty of available real estate. From renovated downtown warehouse lofts to mansions on a golf course, horse ranches to historic homes with large oak trees, Shreveport has it all. Or maybe you just want to live in a good school district on a peaceful street. In Shreveport, we have those, too.

Aside from just a house, a city needs amenities and luxuries that set it apart to make you want to call it home. Living in Shreveport, it will take you no more than 20 minutes to get anywhere you want to go in the city, even at peak rush hour times. We have some of the best K-12 schools in the state, plus a four-year state university, a two-year state university, a private liberal arts college, various vocational schools, as well as both a nursing school and a medical school. As for shopping, we have the major retailers and grocery chains, but we also have some of the best locally owned, unique shops with all the southern hospitality and customer service you could possibly stand. Our weather is fantastic, and you can enjoy the outdoors year-round. Who would not want to live somewhere like Shreveport?

WELCOME HOME TO SHREVEPORT

And dining? Oh, man! Louisianans love to eat, and Shreveport is no different! With the influence from Barksdale Air Force Base just across the river and our perfect positioning at the intersections of I-49 and I-20, our food culture is quite diverse. We have Hawaiian, Mexican, Indian, Vietnamese, Italian, Chinese, Middle Eastern, Japanese, Texas-style barbecue, Southern soul food and of course, Cajun and Creole. Everyone's dining taste buds can be satisfied in Shreveport.

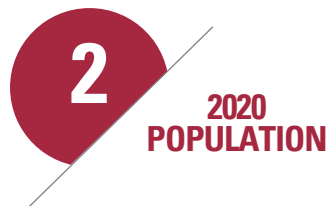

One of the best things about our city is the vibrant arts community. Most cities of our size cannot say that they are home to the official state theatre, a symphony, an opera, and a ballet. But Shreveport can. You can drive into nearly any part of our city and see the influence from the arts. From huge murals towering over downtown to the sounds of the multitude of local musicians playing nightly, you will find your creative inspiration in Shreveport.

SHREVEPORT

Perhaps traditional art is not your thing. Maybe you would rather enjoy the beauty of mother nature. With a plethora of lakes, running trails, 63 public parks and local, regional, and national sporting events, your desire to get outside can be exercised in Shreveport.

By and large, though, the best thing about Shreveport is our people. Our culture is a mix of South Louisiana's ingenuity, East Texas' hard-working attitude and Southern Arkansas' love for nature. The people here play, just as hard as they work. And even though Shreveport is technically a city, the small-town feel means you will always find a helping hand and a friendly face, even in a crowd full of strangers. So, welcome to our big, little city! We look forward to learning more about you, while showing you the best we have to offer in Shreveport.

SHREVEPORT-
COMPETITIVE:

Louisiana effectively provides a zero cooperate income tax environment for items produced in Louisiana and exports to other regions.

As of July 2009, Shreveport-Bossier's electricity, water, natural gas, machinery, and equipment used by production centers and manufacturers, are effectively exempt from sales tax. That means businesses can afford to invest in the very best production equipment without needless overhead increases.

Louisiana's low number of unionized workers and the ratio of worker skill-to-pay favors the businesses and organizations seeking the best talent at the most affordable rates.

Louisiana businesses have a plethora of incentives from state, local and federal levels, including many tax incentives unique to the state and region.

Louisiana, as a right-to-work state, allows business owners the flexibility to select and retain the most productive laborers.

Shreveport recently passed a nondiscrimination clause to ensure all businesses and their workers are protected from intolerance, further adding to the cultural and professional value of the region.

With the completion of I-49 North, and the projected completion of 3132, expansion to the Port of Caddo-Bossier will make the region a hub for east-west and north-south travelers, and will provide important shipping avenues for manufacturers.

COST OF LIVING

Consider the region's housing advantages. Even though it is just five hours away from Northwest Louisiana, living in a place like Austin will still cost more — housing is nearly 30+ percent less expensive in Shreveport than it is in Austin.

In addition to lower housing expenses, people find that, in Shreveport, they can save on groceries as well. Families all across the nation tend to spend a lot of money on groceries; that trend seems to be consistent across state lines everywhere. In Shreveport, residents spend significantly less compared to other southern cities.

Louisiana's reputation for easy access to fuel and low gas costs is not just a reputation—it's a fact. Compared to a city such as Atlanta, residents spend on average 7 percent less on transportation in the Shreveport-Bossier City area.

Northwest Louisiana also provides its residents with a comfortable climate and access to a variety of low-cost utility providers, giving Shreveport an edge over many other major metropolitan areas, including other southern U.S. cities like Houston. The Shreveport-Bossier City area holds a 21 percent savings on average monthly utility costs. Those savings add up.

Access to top-quality, affordable health care is easy to come by in Northwest Louisiana—and it shows. The Shreveport-Bossier City area ranks near the top of the pack when it comes to low healthcare costs, including costs that are nearly 17 percent lower than those of Dallas.

And when it comes to the cost of miscellaneous goods and services, Northwest Louisiana again has others beat—from household essentials such as clothing and toiletries to veterinary services, movie nights or bowling outings, it is both easy and affordable to raise a family and live comfortably in Northwest Louisiana.

CLIMATE

The Shreveport area has a humid, subtropical climate. or the fundraising events they participate in for local schools and non-profits, or enthusiastically pitching in to grow a new community attraction like the Louisiana Food Prize or 318 Restaurant Week, their care for the local community is evident.

We have so many ways for newcomers to get to know our local food scene, from the traditional brick and mortar restaurants to food trucks to the Shreveport Farmers Market to our MANY year-round festivals, several dedicated to food like Mudbug Madness, Battle of the Gumbo Gladiators and the newcomer Stuffed Shrimp Festival.

Read the menus at a number of establishments and you will see reference to regional farms such as Mahaffey Farms, Sample Farms and Smith Family Farms. Food retailers are also shining a bright light on the local products they sell, such as Cuban Liquor and Wine offering Haute Goat Creamery cheese and Great Raft Brewing beer, and Lowder Baking Company featuring not only their heavenly fresh-baked breads and pastries but also made to order coffee from local roaster Rhino Coffee and milk and butter from Morell Dairy Farm. # HEALTHCARE

A HUB FOR HEALTHCARE EXCELLENCE

Louisiana offers unmatched opportunities for medical professionals, with the state ranking 10th nationwide and leading the Southern U.S.

With a strong economic foundation, Shreveport-Bossier continues to remain a competitor in this arena. State of the art facilities such as the planned LSUHS Cancer and Cardiovascular Research Center will provide a significant boost to our area, but discover potential life saving measures for the world.

Shreveport-Bossier is the ideal place for healthcare professionals and businesses to grow and succeed.

I am reminded of my roots every morning upon arrival at Brentwood Hospital where I treat patients as a General, Child, and Adolescent Psychiatrist. Long before Brentwood, the building was Highland Hospital, established in 1917 and located there until 1988 when Highland Hospital moved to the current location on Bert Kouns Industrial Loop. I was born at Highland Hospital in the early 1960's, as was my mother some twenty years earlier.

Over my lifetime, health care in Shreveport has expanded beyond the city and parish. Health care professionals and the health systems in Northwest Louisiana serve the needs of patients in Shreveport-Bossier, East Texas, Southern Arkansas, and in some cases, patients in Central and South Louisiana.

Brentwood Hospital has provided psychiatric care since 1971. It is now the largest psychiatric hospital in the state, having expanded to 200 plus beds in the past 5 years, offering a variety of inpatient and outpatient services to children, adolescents, and adults. In partnership with the Willis-Knighton System, a new Psychiatry Residency Program was approved this year, and the first class of residents began their training this past July. Our goal is that when these residents complete their training they will stay in the local area and provide needed psychiatric care.

Highland Hospital has expanded considerably since the move to Southeast Shreveport and is now known as CHRISTUS Shreveport-Bossier Highland Medical Center. As part of CHRISTUS Health, it is a faith-based, not-for-profit health system serving the northwest Louisiana community with three hospitals – CHRISTUS Highland Medical Center, CHRISTUS Bossier Emergency Hospital, and CHRISTUS Coushatta Health Care Center. CHRISTUS Shreveport-Bossier Highland Medical Center recently welcomed a new Chief Medical Officer, Dr. Suman Sinha. A triple board-certified pulmonary, critical care, and internal medicine physician, Dr. Sinha comes to Shreveport after serving the past six years as chief of pulmonary medicine and director of the lung nodule program at CHRISTUS Health. CHRISTUS Highland Medical Center recently marked the successful completion of 500 transcatheter aortic valve replacement (TAVR) procedures, a surgical option for patients with heart disease affecting the aortic valve. The 500th case occurred on June 26, with four TAVR procedures taking place that day. The hospital's first TAVR procedure was done in 2018.

Willis-Knighton Health is a not-for-profit health system and the largest healthcare provider in northwest Louisiana, with more than 400 health care providers, and more than 7,000 full- and part-time employees. Willis-Knighton features three acute care hospitals in Shreveport and one in Bossier City as well as a rehabilitation institute with physical and behavioral rehabilitation services. Willis-Knighton has been home to a number of healthcare firsts in the region, including the world's first compact pencil-beam proton therapy unit at the Willis-Knighton Cancer Center. The Willis Knighton Cancer Center has been chosen to host the 2025 Particle Therapy Cooperative Group-North American (PTCOG-NA) conference next year. The conference attendees include radiation oncologists, physicists, dosimetrists and other specialists from leading cancer centers Memorial Sloan Kettering, MD Anderson, Mayo Clinic, Massachusetts General and St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

The Willis-Knighton Eye Institute has introduced a variety of surgical advances in the field of ophthalmology, including laser cataract surgery, refractive surgery and specialized procedures for treatment of macular degeneration and glaucoma. The health system's John C. McDonald Regional Transplant Center offers organ transplantation for kidney, liver and pancreas.

The Veterans Administration Shreveport Health Care System provides health care services at 5 locations in Louisiana, southern Arkansas, and east Texas. Facilities include Overton Brooks VA Medical Center and 4 community-based outpatient clinics, providing health care services for Veterans in 15 Louisiana parishes, 5 counties in southern Arkansas, and 10 counties in east Texas. Each year, more than 37,000 Veterans receive care. The medical center works collaboratively with the 2nd Medical Group at Barksdale Air Force Base and is a primary receiving center for military casualties in the VA/DoD Contingency Plan. Overton Brooks VA Medical Center is a Federal Coordinating Center (FCC) for the National Disaster Medical System, which provides extra support when hurricanes, tornadoes, or other disasters overwhelm state and local health and medical resources.

Ochsner LSU Health serves patients across north Louisiana, including Shreveport, Bossier, Monroe and the surrounding areas. With over 50 clinic locations, including hospitals, primary care clinics, urgent care and community health centers, Ochsner LSU Health serves approximately 165,000 unique patients through more than 600,000 clinic visits each year. In recent years, Ochsner LSU Health has invested more than $275 million in improved facilities and infrastructure. Upgrades include new surgical facilities, advanced robotic equipment and the remodel and opening of St. Mary Medical Center – a dedicated women's and children's hospital. Ochsner LSU Health Shreveport – Academic Medical Center is the region's only Level I Trauma Center, Level II Pediatric Trauma Center, Comprehensive Stroke Center and Level 4 Epilepsy Center – the only hospital in the state to hold all four designations. The hospital also recently became an ELSO Gold Level Center of Excellence for life support, the only one in the state. Since beginning the partnership with LSU Health Shreveport, research funding has doubled, facilitating groundbreaking medical studies and innovations. In total, the partnership has increased support to LSU Health Shreveport by 63%. Increased funding has led to a 12.5% increase in trained residents and fellows in addition to more than 1,000 nursing and allied health students rotating at Ochsner LSU Health annually.

Health care in Shreveport-Bossier continues to advance, to the benefit of residents both locally and regionally. Be it health care delivery, employment, or education, Shreveport-Bossier Health Care Systems are key players in the well-being of our community.

Welcome to the Greater Shreveport-Bossier area – a place with enough creativity, innovation and flavor for two cities.

Things grow here. We are makers and creators who grow ideas and industries. Our communities, neighborhoods and parishes are all distinctively unique, which creates the rich fabric that makes us uniquely who we are.

Featuring a robust transportation infrastructure including two airports, bustling rail and road systems, as well as an expanding multi-modal port, Shreveport is centrally located and amply equipped to handle distribution and delivery by air, road, rail and water.

The region's economy is both balanced and diverse including manufacturing, construction, health care, information technology, tourism, retail, oil and gas development, casino gaming and warehousing and distribution, just to name a few.

We are a community of interwoven communities – large and small. We hold our beliefs close and our families even closer. We are home to world-class colleges and universities as well as healthcare systems and the men and women of Barksdale.

Shreveport is a hub for education and innovation in the medical and information technology fields. As a regional medical center, Shreveport hosts pioneering biomedical research, as well as centers of excellence in virology, cardiovascular, arthritis and cancer care. The growing IT sector provides everything from web and app developers and support for local and federal government contracts to cutting-edge cyber security initiatives. Because of Shreveport's geographic location, affordable cost of living and expanding technology infrastructure, the region provides a unique opportunity for information companies and teleworkers to live here and work anywhere.

TIMOTHY J. MAGNER, ED. D.
PRESIDENT

SHREVEPORT, LA OPEN FOR BUSINESS

Much of the medical and IT innovation spring from relationships between our higher education institutions and the private sector. In addition to the LSU Medical School, workforce partnerships exist with four-year universities such as LSU Shreveport, Louisiana Tech, Southern University, Grambling State University and Centenary College, as well as Bossier Parish Community College and the Louisiana Technical Community College. These collaborations are two-way relationships that enable the education institutions to update their curricula to respond to the needs of a changing economy, in turn preparing students to seamlessly enter the workforce prepared for today's demands.

Shreveport's food culture has exploded as well with a wide range of restaurants representing cuisines from across the country and around the globe. While this is a cultural expansion, it also represents an important expression of the region's history of entrepreneurial spirit and creative capacity. Many of these innovative eateries are grown locally, with entrepreneurs leveraging our start-up ecosystem and the community's growing enthusiasm for new dining experiences to create healthy businesses and healthy dining options.

For businesses looking to start or grow, Shreveport-Bossier has some tremendous advantages. Shreveport's startup ecosystem includes incubators, co-working sites, angel investors and accelerator programs. For those looking to expand or relocate, Shreveport offers available downtown office space, significant available land for construction and wealth of architects, engineers and construction firms able to bring any commercial vision to life.

Shreveport also benefits from a very competitive cost of living. Whether it is housing, utilities or amenities, the ability to experience small town charms like minimal traffic and walkable neighborhoods while enjoying big city amenities such as 50+ festivals, an opera, symphony and nationally televised sporting events is part of what sets Shreveport apart.

We're ranked as one of the most cost competitive places to do business and among the top ten communities for economic potential. It's no coincidence that from the King of Rock 'n' Roll to today's most brilliant thinkers, people come here to make a name for themselves. We have our unique way of mixing things together and making them our own, to create a place you won't find anywhere else."

JOB TRAINING PROGRAMS

INCUMBENT WORKER TRAINING PROGRAM (IWTP)

The Incumbent Worker Training Program (IWTP) is a partnership between the Louisiana Workforce Commission (LWC), business and industry, and training providers. The IWTP is designed to benefit business and industry by assisting in the skill development of existing employees and thereby increasing employee productivity and the growth of the company.

These improvements are expected to result in the creation of new jobs, the retention of jobs that otherwise may have been eliminated, and an increase in wages for trained workers.

The program is funded by a social charge assessed on employers that is paid along with Unemployment Insurance tax contributions.

Eligibility Criteria for Employers:

- » Must have been in business in the state for at least three years, contributing and in full compliance with state UI tax laws;
- » Must have at least 15 employees to be trained (employers can form consortiums to meet this requirement); and
- » Request training to either:
  - a) Prevent job loss caused by obsolete skills, technological change, or national or global competition;
  - b) Create, update, or retain jobs in a labor demand occupation;
  - c) Update or retain jobs in an occupation which is not a labor demand occupation, if the administrator determines that the services are necessary to prevent the likely loss of jobs.
- » Trainees must be incumbent workers for whom the employer incurs a Louisiana UI tax liability;
- » Training Providers selected by employers must demonstrate a history of:
  - » Successful training through its placement, retention, and satisfaction rates;
  - » Collaboration with the targeted industry in the development of the training program curriculum; and
  - » Use of a current industry standard as the basis for programs utilized to train students for employment in the targeted industry.

FAME (FEDERATION FOR ADVANCED MANUFACTURING EDUCATION)

Created through a partnership of Toyota and The Manufacturing Institute, FAME is a work-study training model. The specific FAME program implemented in the Shreveport-Bossier area is called the Advanced Manufacturing Technician (AMT) program, designed to grow the skilled industrial maintenance technician talent pipeline. The Northwest Louisiana FAME (NwLA FAME) chapter was launched in 2022 and is one of 40+ chapters around the country. As of fall 2024, nine manufacturing companies sponsor the program, Bossier Parish Community College is the training partner, and the North Louisiana Economic Partnership (NLEP) is the hub organization for the chapter.

The FAME model facilitates employer-led partnerships between manufacturers in a geographic area and local training institutions and establishes a channel for recruiting diverse, high-achieving and career-oriented students. Once established, the cooperative of local employers that make up the FAME Chapter will generate a continuous pipeline of skilled maintenance technicians through the two-year AMT program.

AMT students, both recent high school graduates and adults looking for a better career, gain experience within a modern manufacturing environment, as well as a simulated shop floor for classroom experience, to become global-best, multiskilled maintenance technicians. The practice areas include electricity, robotics, fluid power, mechanics, fabrication, industrial troubleshooting and more, as well as lessons that tackle the Manufacturing Core Exercises (e.g. Lean Principles) and Professional Behaviors. AMT students work at their sponsor company site 24 hours per week and are paid for their time, and they attend class at Bossier Parish Community College in Bossier City 16 hours per week. Upon completion, they will receive an Associate degree in Industrial Engineering with a maintenance concentration, with at least 60 credit hours and will have earned at least 1,800 hours of on-the-job, paid work experience and training that will launch their career as a manufacturing technician. AMTs are prepared for an accelerated career in maintenance upon graduation, and around 85% of AMT graduates stay with their sponsor companies upon graduation.

The Northwest Louisiana Chapter of FAME has Bossier Parish Community College as a training partner, and the current participating manufacturers include: Arq, Inc., Benteler Steel/Tube, Certainteed, Frymaster, Kronospan, Pratt Paper, Prolec GE, Maxim Watermakers, Ternium USA .

BARKSDALE AIR FORCE BASE

Barksdale Air Force Base, located in Bossier City, Louisiana, was dedicated on February 2, 1933 and was the result of many years of work by prominent citizens of Shreveport, Louisiana.

As a result of their efforts, Bossier City was selected as the site of what at that time was the largest air field in the world, and construction began in 1931.

Today, Barksdale Air Force Base is home to headquarters Air Force Global Strike Command, Eighth Air Force, Second Bomb Wing and 307th Bomb Wing, Air Force Reserve. Forty seven B-52G aircraft are stationed at Barksdale. Over 14,000 active duty, civilians and dependents call Northwest Louisiana home as a result of the presence of Barksdale Air Force Base. The annual Economic Impact of Barksdale on the local economy is over $821 million.

Barksdale Air Force Base and its personnel have a long history of supporting our nation in combat operations. In World War II, Barksdale was a bomber training base providing flight training to pilots and aircrews in the B-26, B-17 and B-29. Other aircraft stationed at Barksdale over the years have included the B-45, B-47, KC-97, KC-135 and KC-10 aircraft. The Global Power Museum located at Barksdale Air Force Base (free and open to the public) pays tribute to the history of the men, women and aircraft that have been associated with Barksdale Air Force Base. The first combat mission in Operation Desert Storm was launched from Barksdale, when seven B-52Gs flew a 35 hour mission-the longest combat mission in history at that time-to fire conventional air launched cruise missiles against Iraq. Immediately following the terrorist attacks on September 11, 2001, President George W. Bush chose Barksdale as a secure location from which to speak to the American Public.

OVER 14,000 ACTIVE DUTY, CIVILIANS AND DEPENDENTS CALL NORTHWEST LOUISIANA HOME AS A RESULT OF THE PRESENCE OF BARKSDALE AIR FORCE BASE.

The "Mighty Eighth" Air Force, of World War II fame, is headquartered at the base. Barksdale is home to the 2nd Bomb Wing, 2nd Operations Group, 2nd Maintenance Group, 2nd Mission Support Group, the 2nd Medical Group, Eighth Air Force Museum (which maintains the historical aircraft and artifacts that grace the base) and the Air Force Reserve's 917th Wing.

Barksdale is an integral part of the Ark-La-Tex region, and we are proud to support our men and women who choose to serve our great nation.

What was once cotton fields in Northwestern Louisiana has evolved into one of the largest bomb wings in the Air Force – the 2nd Bomb Wing at Barksdale Air Force Base. Barksdale is also home of the mighty Eighth Air Force which played a pivotal role in World War II. Also headquartered here is Air Force Global Strike Command, which is responsible for ballistic missiles, the entire bomber fleet and the nuclear enterprise.

Since the early 1930s, Barksdale Air Force Base, once known as Barksdale Field, has been a cornerstone that proudly serves the local community by offering employment opportunities and generating revenue in the local economy, while simultaneously providing nuclear deterrence, global strike and combat support operations. This base is home to more than 8,500 active duty, reserve and civilian personnel and the mighty B-52 Stratofortress.

Throughout the years, Barksdale was the host of numerous aircraft supporting many different missions from A-8 Shrikes and Douglas B-18 Bolos to KC-97 Stratofreighter aerial tankers and KC-135 Stratotankers. The base was also a training site for the famous 17th Bomb Group, led by Gen. Jimmy Doolittle before their raid on Tokyo in April 1942. Barksdale has also played pivotal roles in many famous operations such as Operation Just Cause in December 1989, Operation Desert Shield in August 1990 and Operation Desert Storm in January 1991.

Today, Barksdale hosts the full-spectrum of B-52 training and operations. The 11th and 93rd Bomb Squadrons provide initial B-52 training while the 340th Weapons Squadron trains aircrew in graduate-level B-52 tactics. The 20th, 96th and Air Force Reserve 343rd Bomb Squadrons are responsible for executing long-range strike operations around the globe.

The Mighty Eighth, is comprised of six wings, the 608th Air Operations Squadron and the 595th Command and Control Group. The Eighth Air Force mission is to safeguard America's interests through strategic deterrence and global combat power. Also hosted at Barksdale is Air Force Global Strike Command. This command is made up of more than 33,000 experts under two numbered air forces, nine wings at eight bases around the continental United States with Airmen deployed to various bases around the world.

Together, these three commands make Barksdale one of the most powerful places in the world. Barksdale Air Force Base was named after Lt. Eugene Hoy Barksdale, Air Corps, U.S. Army, to honor his legacy and accomplishments after his death in 1926. In 1931, when construction began, past leaders knew this 22,000 acre plot of land was going to be the foundation for a powerful force. However, it's not the land or commands that makes this place extraordinary. It's the people who make up this fighting force and execute the mission every single day.

It is the aircrew flying bomber missions, the chefs preparing meals, the defenders watching the gates, the groundskeepers taking care of the land, the maintainers repairing, and many more who defend our country every day from right here in Louisiana. This diverse group executes the Barksdale mission and epitomizes the legacy of the 2nd Bomb Wing motto, Libertatem Defendimus: "Liberty We Defend."

ADVANCED MANUFACTURING

Northwest Louisiana boasts an advanced, competitive manufacturing industry, in part due to the logistical advantages its unique location offers. Low land costs, multimodal transportation, access to several interstate routes and a regional airport active in international trade and commerce all offer companies a variety of advantages.

A vibrant industrial park adjacent to Shreveport Regional Airport and development-ready sites with reasonable prices such as those located at the Port of Caddo-Bossier attract new companies to the area, allowing for the continual development of new investment opportunities across the region.

BIOTECH AND LIFE SCIENCES

The presence of Louisiana State University's Health Sciences Center, Louisiana Tech University, the University of Louisiana at Monroe College of Pharmacy and the Biomedical Research Foundation form the foundation of Northwest Louisiana's biotech and life sciences sector.

Companies such as Dr. Reddy's Laboratories and Red River Pharma—recently acquired by Nestle Foods—are just a sample of the employers that have seen tremendous success in a rapidly growing industry.

DEFENSE

The defense sector in Northwest Louisiana, led by the presence of Barksdale Air Force Base, is one of the region's most important and visible economic assets. Barksdale alone employs more than 10,000 people and serves as one of the nation's most strategic military installations.

In addition, the 3,000-acre National Cyber Research Park and its Cyber Innovation Center (CIC) support the sector by building a knowledge-based economy and developing programs like the Cyber Discovery Model. Created in partnership between the CIC and Louisiana Tech University to transform STEM and cyber-based curricula through interactive learning, the program received a $2.35 million grant award from the United States Department of Homeland Security.

DIGITAL MEDIA AND SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT

OUTDOORS

OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES IN SHREVEPORT

Northwest Louisiana is an area known for its beautiful, natural environments, including vast landscapes and a multitude of outdoor activities in the Shreveport-Bossier area. Residents across the region are able to take in a wide variety of outdoors activities — from mountain biking, to visiting some of the area's local wildlife habitats, to fishing, hiking, camping and more.

Wonder Oasis Waterpark contains 20 acres of water slides, pools and other attractions for visitors to enjoy, including a 17,000-square-foot wave pool and a lazy river. Nature lovers can experience the peace and serenity of the Red River National Wildlife Refuge, home to 6.5 miles of well maintained walking trails, meadows and swamps that contain a myriad of migratory birds, fish, alligators and more.

Listed as one of the "Top 10 Things for Families to Do in Louisiana" by Trekaroo.com, Gators and Friends is another unique attraction in Northwest Louisiana, located just 10 miles outside of Shreveport. At Gators and Friends, guests can see giant alligators in their natural habitat and take part in feeding the many exotic animals the habitat contains. The goal of the facility is not only to entertain but also to educate its guests about the many animals for which it provides a home.

CADDO LAKE

Caddo Lake's bald cypress forest, decked out in Spanish Moss, is one example of why Caddo Parish is Sportsman's Paradise. The lake looks prehistoric, and indeed, animals older than the dinosaurs still ply these waters: the Paddlefish, Alligator, and Alligator Snapping turtle. Caddo is ranked the highest priority habitat because of its ecosystem diversity; there are almost 300 species of birds at the lake, like great blue herons and bald eagles, and 88 species of fish, including a 16 pound bass caught in recent years.

Much of the lake has been declared a Wetland of International Importance and attracts intrepid explorers from all over the world who want to see a wild and mysterious water world of wonders just outside a major metropolitan area. To see the continent's oldest surviving species up close, the Downtown Shreveport Aquarium (in partnership with the Caddo Lake Institute) raises Paddlefish before they are released in May. At the Sci-Port Museum on Shreveport's riverfront, you'll find a Caddo Lake display of amazing birds. You can hear their calls and see their migration, along with native snakes and turtles.

Caddo is a unique ecosystem full of beauty and mystery, and history. The lake was the site of the world's first "offshore" oil production in 1911. The Oil and Gas Museum in aptly named, Oil City, just outside of Shreveport, chronicles a history that includes Howard Hughes and more. After seeing the museum, you can get a look at the lake from beautiful Earl G. Williamson Park. To really get to know one of the world's largest flooded forests, you'll want to get out on the water. If you have your own boat you can launch from Earl G. Williamson, or for a small fee, at the Drift Inn Landing, where you'll also find bait and burgers.

BEAUTIFUL, MYSTERIOUS, ECOLOGICALLY DIVERSE

The history goes back much further, and the Louisiana State Exhibit Museum has a wonderful permanent exhibit on the native Caddoan peoples including a 30 foot Caddo canoe dug out of a single cypress tree.

TRIPS

Just one of the many great things about Northwest Louisiana is its convenient location to other great tourist attractions. Regardless of where one chooses to settle down in the region, cities that are sure to provide a wonderful day trip to remember are just a short drive away.

For residents of the Shreveport-Bossier City area, trips to Dallas are a proven favorite. The city is well known for its nightlife and high-end shopping. This city is also rich in culture as well, offering both families and groups of singles plenty of opportunities to experience the city's art and culinary scene. Hot Springs, Arkansas is a treasure trove of historic buildings, including its famous bathhouses, and its ample arts and outdoor activities.

However, if exploring Southern Louisiana sounds more appealing, New Orleans is the place to go. A veritable melting pot of various ethnicities, the Big Easy contains a culture so rich and diverse that taking one day to experience it all just may not be enough. The city hosts an incredible family experience in its Aquarium of the Americas, where an innumerable collection of wildlife can be observed. From the delicious food of the French Quarter to the unique shopping provided by the New Orleans Riverwalk, this Southern gem of a city never disappoints its visitors.

In Northwest Louisiana, abundant nature and outdoors experiences reign supreme. Toledo Bend, a manageable 70-mile trip from Shreveport, adds to the region's reputation as a place home to a variety of outdoors activities. From camping, to fishing, to hunting, the largest manmade lake in the southern United States never disappoints those looking to get away for the day.

SPORTS, POLITICS, MUSIC AND MORE IN CAPITAL CITY

Baton Rouge is known for high-energy collegiate sports — most notably Louisiana State University (LSU) football. In the fall, LSU's Tiger Stadium attracts more than 150,000 purple-and-gold-clad spectators to one of the largest tailgate parties in the country, followed by fierce matchups between longtime rivals.

Louisiana's Capital City is also famous for its legacy of politics. The Old State Capitol and Museum of Political History overlooking the Mississippi River houses award-winning exhibits, including an animatronic version of Louisiana's populist Governor Huey P. Long, which delivers snippets of the famed orator's speeches. Nearby is the art deco-style capitol, one of Long's signature projects and the tallest capitol building in the U.S.

SHORT DRIVES, BIG ADVENTURES

Downtown Third Street features numerous bars, restaurants and the Shaw Center for the Arts, which has a 300-seat theater that attracts big-name musicians from a variety of genres. The city also hosts one of the fastest growing music events in the Gulf South, Bayou Country Superfest, a three-day festival that attracts country music's biggest stars.

Outdoor enthusiasts and families enjoy the city's 6,000-acre park system, which includes the Baton Rouge Zoo, Liberty Lagoon family water park, the Bluebonnet Swamp and Nature Center, the Perkins Road Extreme Sports Community Park, disc golf courses, mountain bike trails and dog parks.

ARTS, NIGHTLIFE AND TREND-SETTING FOOD IN NEARBY DALLAS

The live-large city of Dallas, less than three hours from Shreveport, has long been known for NFL football, nightlife and high-end shopping, but the ninth largest city in the U.S. also offers a rich arts, culture and food scene appealing to singles, families and children.

Dallas' AT&T Performing Arts Center features multiple arts venues and is part of one of the largest arts districts in the nation, attracting diverse stage performances from rock bands to Broadway musicals. The Dallas World Aquarium holds flora and fauna from across the world. Families love the Dallas Zoo, which contains one of the country's most notable African wildlife exhibits and also hosts the Lacerte Family Children's Zoo and the Children's Aquarium at Fair Park.

In east Dallas, stunning White Rock Lake provides sailing, fishing and other recreational opportunities. White Rock Park surrounding the lake features jogging trails as well as the Dallas Arboretum and Botanical Gardens. Dallas' modern culinary scene goes well beyond its barbecue, beef and Tex-Mex roots to incorporate lauded global and farm-to-table eateries.

RELAX AMONG NATURE IN HOT SPRINGS

Located in the Diamond Lakes region of the beautiful Ouachita Mountains in central Arkansas, Hot Springs is a great place to visit for a day trip. The town received its name because of the millions of gallons of hot water that flow beneath the city every year, water that flows from more than 40 different subterranean hot springs in the region.

It would be difficult to find another city so proud of its history and culture as Hot Springs. Nestled within America's first national park, the city of Hot Springs boasts a long-winded history that dates back all the way to the 1500s when Spanish and French settlers first arrived. The Victorian-style bathhouses, constructed in the 1800s, are still open to the public today. Visitors can enjoy luxurious spa days while soaking in the very water from which Hot Springs gets its name. The townspeople utilize the natural-flowing hot spring water in as many ways as they can, incorporating it into their hotels, spas and public fountains.

Exploring the area on foot is a good way to see many features as well as the surrounding scenery. Trails of varying lengths and terrains offer easy and challenging hikes for up to 26 miles of adventure. The Hot Springs National Park encompasses part of the downtown area, making it easily accessible to further outdoor activities such as camping or fishing. Visitors can also stroll down the promenade or along the historic bath houses if the town's scenery is preferable.

NATCHEZ, A HUB FOR HISTORY, NATURE AND FAMILY FESTIVALS

Named AAA Southern Traveler's Best Small City for a Weekend Getaway, Natchez, Mississippi, is located approximately 195 miles from Shreveport — a three-hour drive to a city known for its historic culture and Southern charm.

Situated on a bluff overlooking the Mississippi River, Natchez features numerous historic sites, most within walking distance of one another. Visitors can stay overnight at one of many quaint bed-and-breakfasts, as well as stately mansions, such as Dunleith Castle. Featured in Garden & Gun magazine, the riverfront town is home to popular annual events like the three-day Natchez Food and Wine Festival held each July. each October for hot air balloon competitions, food and live music. The fall Phatwater Kayak Challenge allows kayak and canoe enthusiasts the opportunity to race down a 42.5-mile course on the Mississippi River.

Natchez is also the southernmost point of the 444-mile Natchez Trace Parkway, one of the country's most visited U.S. National Park sites, which brought in more than 6 million visitors in 2013 alone and is a popular route among cyclists.

YEAR-ROUND FAMILY FUN IN NEW ORLEANS

With its multi-cultural influences, renowned culinary scene and professional sports, New Orleans is a beloved destination. The Crescent City enjoys a worldwide reputation for Mardi Gras and the New Orleans Jazz and Heritage Festival, but it also features year-round attractions for every age group.

Arts and cultural facilities including the National World War II Museum, the New Orleans Museum of Art and the Louisiana Children's Museum keep visitors clamoring to return. Spectators young and old flock to the Audubon Nature Institute sites, which include the Aquarium of the Americas, the Insectarium and the Audubon Zoo. The zoo sits in century-old Audubon Park, where residents also jog, picnic and play golf and tennis.

Across town in the Mid-City neighborhood, historic City Park features 1,300 acres of parks and recreational amenities, including the City Park Track, a 400-meter polyurethane track built for the 1992 Olympic Trials.

For a unique cultural experience unlike any other, the French Quarter offers a variety of shops, dining and more. The French Market District, established in 1791, offers eateries, baked goods, fresh produce and café-style seating along one of the most iconic outdoor areas in New Orleans. More than one thousand restaurants call the city home, including some of America's oldest eateries, as well as innovative farm-to-table spots that source ingredients from Louisiana's family farmers and artisan food producers.

For a little extra adventure, renting a bike allows for further exploration of the city. Since 2005, the historic port city has expanded its bike paths sevenfold. The new advancements prompted the League of American Bicyclists to designate New Orleans a Silver Level bike-friendly city in 2014.

CHAMBER BUILDING RENOVATION

Just over 100 years ago, the people of Shreveport, Louisiana came together to fund and build the Shreve Memorial Library on the corner of Edwards and Travis streets in the heart of downtown Shreveport. They saw this building not just as a repository of books and knowledge, but as an important expression of their solidarity as a community and even, as one newspaper headline stated, "A Monument to the Future".

The Chamber of Commerce was an early supporter of this effort, with then President M.L. Bath, supporting the fundraising effort in Chamber meetings and a 1920 editorial. When the Library was officially opened on December 6, 1923, Chamber leaders made up some of more than 1000 people in attendance. Sixty years later, in 1982, the Chamber stepped up to partner with the city to invest $1.5 million to renovate and rehabilitate the library building to serve as the home of the Chamber of Commerce.

Now, over forty years later, as the building moves into its second century of service, it is showing signs of age and is in need of repair. The Chamber has again stepped up by taking ownership of the building.

Chamber ownership has allowed us to undertake a campaign to repair and restore the exterior and lobby, replace its aging systems, renovate its facilities and update its technology.

HONORING A CENTURY OF HISTORY

Beginning in 2022, the Chamber kicked off a capital campaign to raise funds to restore this historic structure and establish an endowment that will allow us to preserve this important piece of our history in perpetuity.

Our goal is to not only house the Chamber of Commerce, but to preserve this historic structure so that our children and grandchildren another one hundred years hence will know that we invested in their future, just as our forbearers did for us 100 years ago.

We hope that you will join us in this effort to not only maintain an important downtown office building, meeting location and gathering center, but to invest in this historic structure so it can continue to serve as an important expression of our community solidarity and "Monument to the Future" for generations to come.
